

PHILIPPINES IN FLIGHT

Aguinaldo's Force Have Run For The Interior

BELIEF THAT ANOTHER BIG BATTLE IS IN PROGRESS

Washington, Feb. 7.—Special—An official dispatch from Otis regarding Saturday's battle was received this morning. He places the American casualties at 250. The insurgents lost 4,000 killed, wounded and captured. He confirms the capture of the waterwork. He says a number of Spanish soldiers assisted the insurgents in handling their field guns. The troops are in excellent spirits. Quiet prevails.

The Americans are taking every advantage of the advance made Sunday and yesterday. Their lines now extend two to six miles beyond the old limits and their position is secure at every point. The missing pieces of waterworks and waterworks machinery have been found. The Filipinos seem utterly demoralized. The drubbing the Americans gave them seems to have taken the spirit out of them. A scattering fire continues intermittently.

Manila, Feb. 7.—Special—During a sharp engagement half a mile from Sinaglon yesterday between the Fourth Nebraska, aided by part of the Utah battery, and a Philippine force, the Nebraska regiment lost one dead, three wounded. Gen. Hale's brigade captured the waterworks at Singalon. The Philippines fled in disorder, but took with them the valves and heads of the steam chest and the cylinder of the pumping machine.

Overshines's brigade took Paranaque and two field guns without any opposition. McArthur's division advanced beyond Gagalangin, forcing the Philippines to retreat upon Caloogan. The division sustained no loss.

Restored to Normal Conditions.

Manila, Feb. 7.—Special—The American troops are resting today. There have been no hostile demonstrations on either side. The insurgents are steadily losing ground, as all their movements are in the nature of a retreat. The villages outside the city are in ruins. Women who took refuge on the transports in the bay when the fighting began have returned to their homes. Matters are fast regaining their normal conditions.

Got the Guns From Rios.

Madrid, Feb. 7.—Special—Private advices from Manila represent the Philippines as being short of ammunition. The rebels assert that when the Spaniards surrendered Iliolo Gen. Rios gave them three thousand rifles and 8,000,000 cartridges in exchange for prisoners. Rios denies this.

Aguinaldo's Proclamation.

Hong Kong, Feb. 7.—Special—Manila advices say Aguinaldo has issued a proclamation declaring that the Americans began the fight, and calling upon the Philippine congress to suspend the constitution. He calls on God to defend his people from the invaders.

Tillman Makes Charges.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Special—Tillman addressed the senate on the McEnery resolution this afternoon. He declared the battle with the Philippines was provoked by the Americans for the effect it might have on the treaty.

Another Battle Expected.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Special—The authorities are satisfied that another big battle between the Americans and Philippines will occur shortly if it is not already on. They believe Aguinaldo is simply falling back to secure a position.

Foreign Powers Notified.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Special—All United States foreign ministers have been notified of the ratification of the treaty. This is formal notice to the powers that American dominion over the Philippines must be respected.

Sent Little News.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Special—The authorities of the state and navy departments say not a word of advice has been sent Otis or Dewey beyond the fact that the treaty is ratified.

Excitement at Manila.

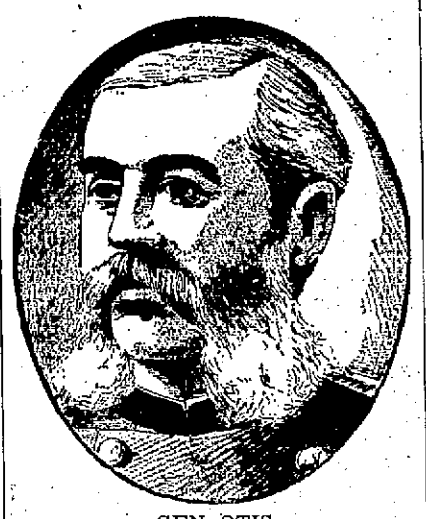

Manila, Feb. 7.—Special—There was much excitement in the native quarters of the city last night due to the incessant firing from the upper windows of houses. No casualties are reported. The Americans have captured strong earthworks in sight of Calcoocan. Six hundred marines with four maxim guns have been landed at Fleet beach, north of the city.

Going to Skip.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Special—Luna, Losada and Lopez, members of the Philippine junta, are making preparations for leaving town, presumably to join their colleagues in Montreal.

Clearing the Battlefield.

Manila, Feb. 7.—Burial parties were busy Monday interring the dead who fell during the fighting on Saturday night and Sunday. Hundreds of dead Filipinos were found in the rice fields lying where they fell or in the shelter of native huts which escaped the flames when whole villages were burned to dislodge the battling insurgents who swarmed there. The enemy is scattered and remote from the city, but there is no certainty that new attacks will not be made at almost any hour.

HOW THE FIGHT STARTED.

Gen. Otis' Preparations Had Been Perfectly Made.

Manila, Feb. 7.—Owing to the area embraced in the scene of Sunday's engagement, a semicircle of fully seventeen miles, details regarding fighting have been extremely difficult to obtain. So far as can be gathered, the brush commenced at 8:45 o'clock on Saturday evening by the firing of a Nebraska sentry at Santa Mesa upon Filipinos who were deliberately crossing the line, after repeated warnings, with the evident purpose of drawing our fire.

The first shot from the American sentry was evidently accepted as a pre-arranged signal, for it was followed almost immediately by a terrific fusillade along the entire Philippine line on the north side of the Pasig river.

The American outposts returned the fire with such vigor that the Filipino fire was checked until the arrival of re-enforcements. All the troops in the vicinity were hurried out, and the Filipinos ceased firing for half an hour, while their own re-enforcements came up.

At 10 o'clock the firing was resumed; the American firing line consisting of the Third artillery, the Kansas and Montana regiments, the Minnesota regiment, the Pennsylvanias, the Nebraskans, the Utah battery, the Idahos, the Washingtons, the Californians, the Fourth cavalry, North Dakota volunteers, Sixth artillery and Fourteenth infantry, the South Dakota and the Colorado regiments.

The Filipinos concentrated their forces at three points—Caloocan, Santa Mesa and Galingan—and maintained an intermittent fusillade for some hours. At about midnight there was a lull in the firing, lasting until 3:45 a. m., when the whole Philippine line reopened fire. The Americans poured a terrific fire into the darkness for twenty minutes, and then there was another lull until daylight, when the Americans generally advanced.

During the night, in response to Admiral Dewey's signals, flashed across from Cavite, the United States cruiser Charleston and the gunboat Concord, stationed at Malabon, poured a deadly fire from their secondary batteries into the Filipino trenches at Caloocan.

After daylight the United States double turret sea-going monitor Monadnock opened fire off Malate and kept shelling the Filipinos' left flank, while the other vessels shelled the right flank for several hours.

By 1 o'clock the Americans had apparently completely routed the enemy and had taken the villages of Palaw-pang, Santa Mesa, Paco, Santa Ana, San Pedro, Macarte, Pandacan and Pasai, had destroyed hundreds of native huts and had secured possession of the water main reservoir, a distance of over six miles. The Tennessees joined the firing line at 10 o'clock on Sunday morning and assisted in capturing Santa Mesa.

One of the most notable events of Sunday's work was the driving of the Filipinos out of their stronghold at Paco by the reserve, a few companies of Californians commanded by Col. Duboce. The main road to the village was lined by native huts full of Filipino sharpshooters.

After they had been firing upon Gen. King and his staff, killing a driver, and firing on an ambulance of the Red Cross Society, Col. Duboce ordered the huts to be cleared and burned. The Filipinos concentrated in Paco church and convent, where they made a determined stand in the upper stories. A platoon of Californians stationed on a neighboring bridge maintained a hot fire on the Filipinos, but was unable to dislodge them. In the face of a terrible fusillade Col. Duboce and a few volunteers dashed into the church, scattered coal oil inside of it, set fire to the church and retired.

The Americans captured fifty-three of the rebels and during the fighting about the church twenty of the rebels were killed. Some 2,500 women, children and noncombatants were allowed to enter the American lines, after promising to go to the houses of friends and remain there.

Another intensely exciting incident occurred during the engagement. The Washingtons and Idahos and companies K and M of the Californians made charges across the rice fields between Paco and Santa Ana in the face of a terrific fusillade. The ground over which they passed is covered with dead and wounded natives. The former are being buried in groups of five or six about where they lay and the latter are being brought to the hospital. It was at this stage of the fighting and at Calcoocan that the Filipinos suffered their heaviest losses.

The Fourteenth regulars were in a particularly tight place near Singalon, and Col. Duboce was compelled to rush past them with the reserve in order to prevent the regulars from being cut off. In the last line twelve men were killed before the rebels retired.

Both sides cheered frequently during the engagement. The American "hurrahs" were almost invariably met by derisive "vivas." Among the natives the Ygorotes were especially noticeable for their bravery, about 700 of these naked savages facing artillery fire with their bows and arrows.

"Absolute order was maintained in Manila.

The United States flagship Olympia steamed across the bay on Sunday and took up a position near the German cruiser Irene and the British cruiser Narcissus, off the Mole. She is still there. The Americans are determined not to give the Filipinos a chance to recuperate.

CASUALTIES REPORTED.

Lists Received to Date Foot Up 42 Dead and 54 Seriously Wounded.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Two dispatches giving lists of the American casualties in the battle at Manila were received yesterday from Gen. Otis. He names only thirty-seven as being dead, while the list of dead given here foots up forty-two, and it may be that there are duplications, although allowance has been made for such mistakes, and the list appears to be as nearly as possible correct. The comparatively small number of wounded may be accounted for on the supposition that only the names of those seriously hurt have been forwarded by Gen. Otis. Following are the consolidated lists:

FOURTEENTH INFANTRY—Dead, Lieut. James W. Mitchell, died of wounds Feb. 6; Corporal Guy B. Soden, company E; Corporal Henry F. Thompson, M; Privates Jesse A. Hale, A; Maurice L. Seeman, A; Louis V. Dietz, D; James Harvey Knight, M; Charles W. Douglass, M; Frank H. Issinghausen, M; Charles A. Seitz, M; Alphonso Bonner, M; Peter M. Stomont, L.

Wounded—Sergt. Samuel E. Boakler, company I; Corporal Jas. Neary, M; Musician Joseph W. Osberger, M; Privates Dixon A. Everett, A; Michael Kennedy, F; Augustin Berry, F; Benjamin A. Harbous, I; Hugh P. McClellan, I; Herman Steinhagen, I; O.

THREE SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

Mesdames Judd and Greenman Give a Delightful Ladies' Tea

At the spacious home of Mrs. W. H. Judd on St. Lawrence Place, a delightful ladies' tea was held this afternoon, given by Mrs. W. H. Judd and Mrs. W. H. Greenman. One hundred invitations were issued, and but few regrets were received. The tables were faultlessly presided over, and a tempting repast was in order. Mesdames Judd and Greenman will preside as hostesses at a similar function to be held Thursday next.

Mrs. George M. McKey entertained members of the Chafing Dish club this afternoon at her East street home. This evening the members of the local Order of Railway Conductors will give their annual ball in the Armory.

CHARGED WITH FRAUD

Bankers at Dorchester Arrested For Receiving Deposits After Their Insolvency.

Neillsville, Feb. 7.—[Special]—John Shafer and John Spengler, who have been doing a general merchandise business at Dorchester and running a private bank in connection, and who made a voluntary assignment a month ago, were arrested last night charged with accepting deposits after knowing of their insolvency. In default of bail they were confined in jail.

KILLED BY EXPLOSION

Gas Causes Loss of Life in a Muncie, Ind., Home, at Mid-night.

Muncie, Ind., Feb. 7.—[Special]—A gas explosion destroyed J. Hedrick's home at midnight. Bert Hauck was badly burned, and died this morning. Hedrick was probably fatally injured.

SUSPENDED SIX YEARS

That is the Final Sentence Meted Out to Commissary General Eagan.

Washington, Feb. 7.—[Special]—The sentence of the court martial in the Eagan case has been commuted to suspension for six years.

STARVING TO DEATH

Thousands of the Russian Peasantry Are Succumbing to Hunger And Want.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 7.—[Special]—The peasants in the country are dying by thousands of starvation.

JURY DRAWN THIS AFTERNOON

Farm Hand After Sixty Dollars That He Claims Is His.

In the municipal court this afternoon a jury was drawn in the case of Frank Opitz against J. H. Bolte. The plaintiff is a farm hand and the defendant is a farmer in the town of Rock. Opitz was in the employ of Bolte from March 21 to October 23, 1898, at a salary of $18 per month. Opitz alleges that Bolte paid him $65, leaving a balance due him of about $60. The suit is brought to recover the balance alleged to be due. J. C. Cunningham appeared for the plaintiff and Charles E. Pierce for the defendant.

The case of Mary Ablett vs. John and Lizzie Ablett was continued for one week.

LOCAL PARTY FOR FLORIDA.

Will Leave Janesville Tomorrow Morning Via the Milwaukee Road.

Mrs. I. C. Sloan, Mrs. E. A. Hyde, Mrs. Charles I. Sloan and children, and Miss Mary N. Sears, of this city, will leave at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, via the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad for Florida. On their arrival in the sunny south they will take up their home on the Sloan plantation, which is situated in one of the most charming spots of Florida, surrounded by orange groves, and but a short distance from the sea.

The party expects to be gone several weeks, and their numerous friends will join in wishing them a safe and pleasant journey.

IMPROVED THEIR QUARTERS

Fire Police Now Have an Elegant Place For Their Meetings

At a meeting of the Janesville Fire Police held a month ago, it was voted to make some necessary changes and improvement in their place of meeting in the engine house on North Main street. Carpenters, painters and paper hangers were engaged at once, since which time a wonderful change has been made in the appearance of their quarters. A new hardwood floor has been laid, the wood work has been repainted, and the walls repapered. A new roll-top office desk also adorns the home of the fire police.

A meeting will be held this evening, the first since their quarters have undergone the change.

Food of Chinese Babies.

Chinese babies are fed on rice and nothing else after they are a few months old. Cow's milk is never given to them.

SOLONS RESUME THEIR LABORS

BIG FLOOD OF BILLS IN BOTH HOUSES TODAY.

Appointments Made By the Governor on State Boards—Amendments to the Constitution Affecting Labor Interests—One Restricts the Jurisdiction of the Supreme Court.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 7.—[Special]—There was a big flood of bills in both houses of the legislature today, but few of them are of great importance.

In the senate a message was received from the governor announcing several appointments: Gustave Wollager, of Milwaukee, is to succeed Charles Pittelkow as normal regent, appointed by acting Gov. Stone; J. J. Fruit, of La Crosse, Thomas Jenkins, of Platteville, and Freeman Lord, of River Falls, as normal regents; Halford Erickson, of West Superior, as land commissioner. Other appointments made by Gov. Scofield, not required to be confirmed by the senate, are: University regents—C. A. Galloway, Fond du Lac, to succeed Frank Shalloner, deceased; B. J. Stevens, Madison, George H. Noyes, Milwaukee; John Riess, Sheboygan; B. A. Buffington, Eau Claire.

Among the bills introduced in the senate were:

Requiring employers of females to provide seats for their use when not on active duty.

Requiring cigar factories to be kept in a sanitary condition.

Putting sheriffs and their deputies, registers of deeds, and clerks of circuit and county courts on salaries instead of fees.

Requiring that buildings erected by the state be of Wisconsin building material.

Three important joint resolutions looking to the amendment of the constitution were introduced in the assembly by Mr. Logan. They relate to injunctive orders in strikes, boycotts, lockouts and other labor troubles, and in effect they give exclusive jurisdiction to circuit courts to issue such injunctive orders, to take from the supreme court original jurisdiction in such cases, leaving it only with appellate jurisdiction, and provide that persons accused of violations of or conformity with such injunctions shall have the right of any jury trial. They are along the line of reformation suggested by the national bar association to simplify litigation in labor troubles.

In the assembly a gist of minor bills were offered.

Mr. Dresser introduced one for an interstate park at St. Croix Falls, and Mr. Keene had three bills prepared by the state medical board at the last meeting, to prevent the spread of contagious diseases, in regard to the transportation of corpses, and requiring cities and towns to submit sewer and waterworks plans to the state board.

PARLIAMENT OPENED

British Legislature Begins Its Session Today With the Customary Formalities.

London, Feb. 7.—[Special]—The session of parliament was opened today with the usual formalities. The Queen's speech was read by Lord Chancellor.

FORECAST OF WEATHER

Chicago, Feb. 7.—[Special]—Forecast for Wisconsin:

Fair, continued cold tonight and Wednesday.

THEIR OWN MARRIAGE LAW

Milwaukee Methodist Ministers Propose a Measure to the Legislature.

Milwaukee, Feb. 7.—The Milwaukee Methodist Ministers' association this morning spent nearly three hours in discussing the marriage laws, with the result that a committee is to be appointed, which will secure an attorney to draft a bill. They will present it to the legislature for consideration. A cause which meets with great favor, and which will undoubtedly be incorporated into the ministers' bill is a provision whereby the ministers will be able to have five days in which to make investigations before performing the marriage ceremony. In other words, parties wishing to be married will be required to make their applications five days in advance of the wedding day. The preachers, as a rule, do not favor the license system. They passed a resolution, saying:

"We desire to place ourselves on record as in favor of any measure which will better safeguard the homes of our state and prevent or tend to prevent hasty and improper marriages."

That Bargain Table.

We have been talking real hard about this lot of grocery bargains we have placed on our bargain counter and they are well worth all the investigating that economical buyers can give them. The packages are a trifle soiled or damaged, but the inside is as choice as the best. We will not carry goods that look badly, and therefore the below cost prices. Look up the list on page 8. THE GRIP CURE THAT DOES CURE.

Laxative Broma Quinine Tablets removes the cause that produces La Grippe. The genuine has L. B. Q. on each Tablet. 2c.

NEWS FROM OUR NEIGHBORS

Gathered By The Gazette's Correspondents.

Clinton, Feb. 7.—The winter so far has been rather unfavorable for the Bradford man who bought a new cutter last November. He hasn't hitched on to it once. Blinton's popular justice arrived home late one night owing to a delayed train, and by the time he succeeded in getting his family sufficiently awake to let him in the house, he had the whole neighborhood aroused for a block around. Mrs. John Conley has been very sick and her condition at present writing shows no improvement. Dr. Mary Montgomery reports the later grip cases of a lighter form. She visited twenty patients one day recently, which number did not include any of her protracted cases. Mr. Thomas, a dentist student of Milwaukee, was the guest of friends here over Sunday. Rev. Mr. Moore was nearly incapacitated by illness Sunday. Pauline Jones has had quite a time of it with the grip. The waterworks well drilling machinery is again at work. We do not know to what depth Mr. Watson is aiming at, but he is evidently not discouraged by the fact that there are wells in existence 3,800 feet deep. W. A. McCommons and wife, of Madison, were here over Sunday. Their household goods will be shipped to their new home this week. Mrs. Parley Isham is among the latest grip patients. It is a conceded fact that A. Huggins, our Front street blacksmith, has a four year old mare that is a remarkably good stepper. Nothing in town can pass her it is said. Clinton creamery paid 80c for first half January. Average daily receipts, 13,410. C. J. McMichael, who lives at Rudd, Iowa, and of whom The Gazette made mention last week, is a son of Joseph McMichael, of this place. Editor Cheever has had sent him a fine collection of views taken along the route of the excursion last summer to the Pacific coast. The moving picture entertainment Thursday evening at the Congregational church, was not a free show, as we were led to incorrectly state last week, but receipts at the door were $26. Rev. Jenson gave his farewell talk at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon. A progressive four year old boy of this locality, was trying to recite the golden text of the Sunday school lesson, recently, and when prompted with the first word he immediately responded: "God Save the Queen." The fact that in the lad's home, besides the stars and stripes there are seven British flags, may in a measure account for his familiarity with the popular English words. R. W. Cheever and wife returned Thursday evening from their visit down east. Master John Horatio Helmer, who has been under the doctor's care, is now much improved. Dr. Geo. Covert has been quite sick for a week or more. Mr. John Springer is very ill, caused by a stroke or apoplexy.

Emerald Grove.

Emerald Grove, Feb. 7.—Miss Jennie D. McArthur spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents. The funeral services of the late Orvil Knilians was held in the Richmond M. E. church. Rev. C. Denis, of this place, officiating. The song service being rendered by the Richmond quartet. The pall bearers were the six brothers of the deceased. The services were largely attended. Mr. Knilians was respected by all who knew him, being a good citizen and a genial friend. His death is much regretted. He leaves a wife and son, Earl, who mourn the loss of a good husband and kind father, and they have the sympathy of the entire community. Mrs. Frank Coulter has been on the sick list the past week. Mrs. Alice Inman, who has just returned from New York, was the guest of her mother, Mrs. Mary Scott, a few days last week. The birthday social given Friday evening was quite a success, notwithstanding the great amount of sickness in the community. The net proceeds of the evening were $23. Miss Leo Proctor delighted the audience with several fine recitations, which she rendered in her usual pleasing manner. Miss Bertha Clark was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis, Friday and Saturday. Charles Beynton has been on the sick list. Miss Janette McArthur is spending this week with Clinton friends. The Ladies Aid society will meet in the chapel on Thursday afternoon, of this week. Rev. Mr. Whitney, of Beloit, preached in the Congregational church last Sabbath. The presiding elder, Rev. Pease, officiated in the M. E. church in the morning, and the pastor gave a very interesting sermon in the evening. Some of our La Prairie neighbors are so particular about their diet that they manufacture their own butter. We hear that Jene Culver has been getting married. His many friends wish him much joy. The Royal Neighbors are thinking of admitting gentlemen to membership in their order. There will probably be a rush for the privilege of joining. We have the benefit of witnessing some very fast exhibitions of speed on our streets lately. We have fast horsemen, if not horses.

Johnstown Center.

Johnstown Center, Feb. 7.—The dance at Forest hall, last Tuesday evening for the benefit of the Royal Neighbors was quite well attended. Music was furnished by Tuckwood's orchestra. Supper was served at one o'clock. Dancing was kept up until a late hour or rather an early one, for it was in the wee sma' hours before the party broke up, after spending a most enjoyable eve. Mr. Tuckwood deserves a word of praise for the excellent music which was rendered. It could not be rivaled. Miss Adeline Pickett, of Janesville, is visiting her niece, Mrs. Nellie Pember. Silas Locke and Walter Pember are among those who delivered their tobacco at Janesville Thursday last. Miss Elsie Walker is home from Janesville, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Walker. Miss Julia White spent a few days of last week, with her sister, Mrs. Kittie McCann, of Mt. Zion. The prolonged cold snap is testing the cellars. Very few can stand the test. Mr. and Mrs. Will Fellows returned from Ft. Atkinson last week. A number from here attended the funeral services of Orville Knilians at Richmond. Mrs. Jennie Hall was quite sick last week. Rob. Wilson has returned from Janesville where he has been at work. High grade mittens and rubbers at E. D. Hall's for reasonable prices. John Joyce, of Oregon, came back to Wisconsin last week to visit his parents and friends once more. The grip still claims many victims around the Centre yet. It is unwilling to leave our charming village. Charles Stoller is on the sick list. The Ladies Aid society met last Wednesday. The roads are excellent for this time of the year. They could not be improved. Young men who have a distance to go Sunday evenings are embracing the opportunity or perhaps something else. Ernest Walker was sick the fore part of last week, but was soon able to go back to his place at Robt. Morton's. Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Hall were in Janesville, Wednesday. James Waters is cutting wood for George Mahoney. Miss Margaret Morton was sick with the grip, but is better. P. J. McFarlane was in Milton, Friday. A number from the Centre and vicinity attended the Burns anniversary. All report a good time. The woodchuck saw his shadow Thursday (if he had the courage to leave his warm burrow) and we are fated to have six weeks more of cold weather. The grip and a cold seem to be the latest fashion of the day. How many attended "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in Janesville last Saturday evening? Next Monday evening, Feb. 13, at Forest hall, there will be a dance for the benefit of the Royal Neighbors. Bright moonlight and a pleasant evening is requested. Mrs. E. T. Pember is home from Janesville where she has been visiting her son, Dr. J. Frank Pember. John Weber, of Janesville, was home Sunday. Mrs. John Barlass, of Emerald Grove, was in town Thursday. Frank Walker has a new driving horse. Some of the Centre people attended the concert at the U. P. church at Rock Prairie last Tuesday evening. Miss Anna McGowan was on the sick list last week. Wood is in demand these cold days and many are taking advantage of the fine roads to get a good supply. The Centre is rather quiet now a days and there is very little excitement, (but then when is it otherwise?) It will soon be February 14 and valentines will be flying briskly around. We hope the good old Saint Valentine will skip no one.

Center.

Center, Feb. 7.—The interment of Mrs. John Crall took place at Bethel cemetery Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Crall was for many years a respected citizen of this place. Sam Dean has leased the farm of Mrs. Lina Schroeder for a term of years and will take possession about March 1st. The protracted meetings at the German M. E. church were discontinued on account of cold weather. Our citizens are quite jubilant over the new telephone line we are to have in a few weeks. O. C. Fisher is confined to his home by a light stroke of paralysis. Mrs. Horace Wright, of Clark county, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Elsie Fuller. George N. Ashby and son delivered their '98 crop of tobacco in Janesville on Saturday. There has been but few sales of late. Charles Hawk sold for 5 1/2 cents, Herman Natz for 5 1/2, Fred Fuller for 4 cents. Mrs. Myrta Dean is spending a few days at her parental home near Albany. Miss Bessie Fisher, who is teaching school at Happy Hollow Sunday with friends here. William Crow's new barn will be quite an improvement to the farm when completed. W. O. Howell will be ready to do grinding in a few days as of old. Prayer meeting at John Goldsmith's on Wednesday evening. Topic, "Realizing God's Presence." Camp Dean, who is attending school at Rockford was at home over Sunday.

The Mission band will meet at Mrs. John Fisher's on Saturday afternoon. There was no preaching Sunday on account of Rev. F. W. Mutchler being ill.

North Johnstown.

North Johnstown, Feb. 7.—Mrs. J. C. Steele, who had a severe attack of congestion of the lungs and pleurisy Wednesday, is now much better. Miss Alma Story, of Evansville, came Saturday night to assist at the parsonage a few days. Grandma Cary and her daughter, Mrs. Eugene Cary, were among the sick last week. All the sick ones are improving except Charles Fox, who is still in bed. C. O. Bennett and wife, of Janesville, were at the home of their father, George Bennett, Thursday. The friends of Mrs. Martha Stone, who formerly resided here, will regret to learn that she is very sick at her home in Milton Junction with no hope of recovery. One of the most pleasant social events of the season was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bishop Wednesday, where about fifty of their friends gathered at about eleven o'clock and gave them a genuine surprise. A bountiful dinner including oysters was supplied and served by the company, of which all partook with a relish. The surprised couple were presented with a beautiful willow rocker as a token of the high regard and esteem by which they are held in this community. All regret exceedingly that they are soon to leave us, having rented the Spaulding farm on Milton avenue, to which they will move the first of March. Miss Minnie Hanna spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in Whitewater. Clara Fox has been at home since Thursday caring for the sick ones of the family. The schools in this vicinity have been greatly diminished in attendance for two weeks on account of sickness. Charles Fox and daughter, Flossie, and William Shimmel were added to the sick list last week. Rev. J. C. Steele officiated at the funeral services of the child of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bray at Lima, Friday. Mrs. Killam, who has been sick with the grip and was recovering, suffered a relapse and is now very sick with inflammatory rheumatism.

Rock River.

Rock River, Feb. 7.—S. S. Pierce is on the sick list. Mr. and Mrs. Miles Bliven, of Edgerton, attended church at this place last Sunday. Harry Green was in Edgerton Saturday. Miss Inez Brightman was absent from school last week on account of sickness. Robert Miller and Bert Roub took dinner at O. T. Vincent's, Friday. Bryant Merrifield and sister Nema visited at Mr. and Mrs. Harry Swader's, Thursday. N. M. Rose has been hauling potatoes to Edgerton this week for 40 cents per bushel. Mr. Dedrick and family are all on the sick list with the grip. Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Vincent went to Milwaukee Saturday for a week's visit. W. A. Druck is again on the street selling medicine. O. T. Vincent has sold his farm to Granville Babcock for $60 per acre. Mr. Bond will work the farm the coming year. There was no meeting this week on account of the sickness of our pastor, Mr. Talbert. Mrs. Hattie Pierce and children, Ona, Gailen and Harry, spent Saturday with her sister, Mrs. Ida Burdick. O. T. Vincent expects to start for Minnesota soon, looking for land. Fred Green is working for A. P. Vincent during his absence. Mrs. Jane Green, of Milton Junction, spent Monday at N. M. Rose's.

Magnolia.

Magnolia, Feb. 7.—Last Wednesday Dr. Jackson, of Madison, was called in consultation with Dr. Smith in the case of Mrs. G. H. Howard. She is now slowly but surely gaining. Lila Howard was called home from Janesville last Thursday on account of the dangerous illness of her mother. Four of the scarlet fever flags have been taken down. If no new cases are reported school, which has been closed for two weeks, will be resumed next Monday. Little Ada Clark is still quite sick with pneumonia. Edna Townsend is also on the sick list. Everett Osborn is getting along as well as can be expected, only losing one toe from her ride on the cars. Mrs. Lila Green has been sick with the grip. Ed Acheson has had a light attack of pneumonia. Mr. Otto Muhn intends to start for his home in Missouri this week.

Stebbinsville.

Stebbinsville, Feb. 7.—James Burns is working in tobacco at Edgerton. The farmers have been filling their ice house at the Emerald creamery. Charley Learn is drawing stone for a basement stripping room. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walker visited at H. D. Hanson's on last Sunday. William Attlessey comes out with a brand new wagon bought from Henry Elhott, of Edgerton, Wis. Let everybody turn out to the crokinole sociable at James Spike's, Jr., on Friday night, Feb. 10. The Christian Endeavor will meet at W. H. Gifford's on Saturday night, Feb. 11.

Barker's Corners.

Barker's Corners, Feb. 7.—The Ladies Aid society will meet with Mrs. E. A. Hardy next week on Thursday. There will be a box social Thursday evening of this week at the home of William Cox. All are invited. Ira Ahlett is attending school at Janesville this winter. Lewis Noey has his ice house filled. If the shadow was seen last Thursday look out for six more weeks of ice and dust. About fifty planned a surprise on Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gage last Tuesday evening. After living on the farm nineteen years they will make their future home in Janesville.

Who Shall Decide When Doctors Disagree?

No one knew better than the poet, Pope, who wrote them, the significance of these words, for he was a sickly bundle of nerves and ailments, and doubtless had disagreeable experience with doctors. But in Pope's day there were no great specialists to consult and decide as to the exact disease when ordinary doctors disagreed. At the present day when the ordinary general practitioners disagree as to what your complaint is, and give you various kinds of treatment all of which fail to cure, you would be very foolish indeed if you did not immediately consult some eminent specialist about your case, as, for instance, the famous Dr. Greene, of 148 State street, Chicago, Ill., discoverer of that grandest of medicines, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, as well as discoverer of many other curative medicines for the various diseases; medicines of most marvelous power to cure and which are purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. Dr. Greene has the largest practice and greatest success in curing disease of any physician, and what makes this fact the greatest boon to the people is the fact that he can be consulted by anybody absolutely free of charge, whether you call or write. If doctors disagree as to what ails you, if they have failed to cure you, write at once and secure without expense the advice and counsel of Dr. Greene in regard to your case, and we guarantee that he will tell you precisely and exactly what your trouble is, and we are positive that by thus writing to this most skillful of specialists in nervous, chronic or lingering complaints you will receive information which will lead to your cure.

The smallest things may exert the greatest influence. Dr. Witt's Little Early Risers are unequalled for overcoming constipation and liver troubles. Small pill, best pill, safe pill. People's Drug Co., corner Main and Milwaukee.

HOW SPANISH "PAY" SOLDIERS

Remit to the Colonels and These Officers "Do" the Rest.

Spanish army accounts are strangely and wonderfully made. From their absence of exactness and disregard of all detail one would certainly be led to believe that the bookkeeping department of the Madrid war office has few clerks in its employ. A certain amount of money is allowed to each regiment and charged in gross to the colonel, who is solely responsible for its disbursement. According to an explanation made recently by the Marquis of Montoro, secretary of the treasury in Havana, this lump sum of money covers the entire expenses of the regiment, from uniforms and equipment to soldiers' pay. Each regimental colonel is his own bookkeeper and paymaster. He practically sells to his soldiers at his own price everything that they have while they are in the service of Spain. The pay of a common soldier is about $3 in gold per month. Against this is charged whatever he wishes to buy. For example, suppose a soldier needs a new pair of shoes, he makes his wants known to the colonel, who hands him a pair and takes $3 or $4 out of his wages. The shoes may not have cost the colonel more than $1.50, which he paid for out of the regimental funds. Out of one of his own men, who has left home and family and everything for his country, he has made 100 per cent, by turning over government capital.

When the time for final settlement comes, the soldier is quietly told that there is nothing to his credit on the books of the regiment; that his great and good government has taken care of him for three years, and has allowed him the privilege of fighting for it, and that if he doesn't have a proper sense of gratitude he is a base traitor, who isn't worthy to be called a Spaniard, an argument which has heretofore worked very well. But this is not all the trouble. Each regiment is charged with a considerable sum of money for hospital services, and the colonel deducts a proportionate percentage from each soldier's pay for that purpose. Another percentage is deducted for what in Spanish bookkeeping is called "incidentals."

MAN IN HIS PRIME.

Age at Which He Is at His Best Mentally and Physically.

The question has often been asked. When is man in his prime? but, for obvious reasons, a satisfactory answer has never been given. If "prime" be taken as the time when a man's intellectual powers are most highly developed, then it is apparent at once that this is not likely to correspond to the age when he is in the acme of physical strength. Tests to determine when a man is at his best physically and mentally have recently been made in London, and the results have caused a deal of astonishment to those who believe man is in his prime between the ages of forty and fifty. Tests of the strength, mental and physical, of several thousand persons were made, and these are given as the average figures for the white race: The "lifting power" of a youth of seventeen is 280 pounds; in his twentieth year this increases to 320 pounds; and in the thirtieth and thirty-first years it reaches its height, 365 pounds. By the fortieth year it has decreased eight pounds; and this diminution continues at a slightly increasing rate, until the fiftieth year is reached, when the figure is 330 pounds. Mental statistics were based on how much of a given page of a book could be memorized in a given space of time. The tests were made in English Board schools, colleges and Oxford University. It was found that youths of eighteen to twenty were far superior to men of thirty at this work. A contest was arranged between students and instructors at Oxford, and the dons were left far behind by their younger competitors. A child's mental faculties were found not to be properly developed until the age of eight years. From this age onward there was a steady increase of the amount able to be retained by the brain, in a certain time, up to the age of sixteen. Then there was a sudden jump and a stop at twenty years. At this age the brain power began to fall off, very slowly at first, but proceeding rapidly after forty years was reached.

Facts About Humanity.

Of the entire human race it is estimated that 500,000,000 are well clothed—that is, they wear garments of some kind; 250,000,000 habitually go naked, and 700,000,000 only cover parts of their body; 500,000,000 live in houses; 700,000,000 in huts and caves, and 250,000,000 have virtually no shelter at all.

Natives of Northern China.

In northern China many of the natives are dressed in dogskin. There are many establishments where dogs of a peculiar breed are raised in large numbers for their shaggy pelts. They are killed when eight months old.

THINK CONFLICT CONTINUES.

Admiral Dewey Cables That Insurgents Have Attacked Manila.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Admiral Dewey's dispatch announcing that the insurgents had attacked Manila was delivered at the navy department about 9 o'clock Monday morning. It was the first event of an eventful day. This is the dispatch:

Manila, Feb. 6.—Secretary Navy, Washington: Insurgents have attacked Manila. The Boston leaves today for Iloilo to relieve the Baltimore, which will return to Manila. Two men wounded yesterday on board Monadnock, one seriously. DEWEY.

The contents of the message soon became known and raised a question, yet unsettled, whether fighting was still in progress. The admiral's message dated Feb. 5, received yesterday, stated that there had been no casualties to the navy, and the apparent conflict was taken by some officers to indicate that fighting was still going on.

Nothing was received during the day by either the war or navy departments to contradict this view, and it was the general impression that while the American forces were undoubtedly repulsing the attacks the Filipinos would continue them with more or less vigor until American authority is fully asserted in the archipelago and Aguinaldo's army is either disarmed and disbanded by peaceful methods or by force.

Secretary Long said that while there was no reason to suppose that the military and naval commanders in the Philippines would fail to follow up and take all advantages offered them, they were acting on the theory that the president desires in dealing with the insurgents to follow the most humane and liberal methods.

To Sail from San Francisco.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 7.—It is understood here that the battleship Iowa, due to arrive here from Magdalena bay Tuesday or Wednesday, will be immediately prepared for a trip to Manila. She will stay here long enough to take on an immense supply of ammunition for Dewey's fleet and to await dispatches from Washington.

News Sent to Gen. Otis.

Washington, Feb. 7.—When the news of the ratification of the peace treaty reached the president, at his direct it was cabled to Gen. Otis at Manila, who promptly replied, acknowledging the receipt of the message containing the information.

Should Follow Up the Victory.

New York, Feb. 7.—Maj.-Gen. Wesley Merritt said that, in his opinion, the military organization of the Filipinos would scarcely survive the defeat just inflicted upon it, especially if it were followed up by another hard, strong blow.

Rebels Driven Back Ten Miles.

Hongkong, Feb. 7.—The latest advices from Manila say that the rebel forces have been driven back ten miles and their losses are estimated at 1,800 killed or wounded.

The Filipino Dead.

Manila, Feb. 7.—Careful estimates place the Filipino losses up to date at 2,000 dead, 3,500 wounded and 5,000 taken prisoners.

Uruguay Insurrection Quelled.

Montevideo, Feb. 7.—The government forces have defeated and captured the Colorados, who recently revolted against Senor Cuestos, the provisional president of Uruguay. Tranquillity is now restored.

Do your clothes look yellow? If so, use Maple City Self-Washing soap. It will make them white.

The Biggest of All Trusts.

New York, Feb. 7.—The final step in the formation of the most gigantic monopoly ever contemplated is about to be taken. By March 15, through the combination of the rye whiskey distillers of Maryland and Pennsylvania into one $60,000,000 trust, the way will have been paved for the merging of all the whiskey and spirits distilling and distributing concerns in the United States into a corporation that will have twice the capitalization of the Standard Oil Company, or $200,000,000, and which will have the whiskey and spirits distilling and distributing business of the United States absolutely at its mercy.

Tennessee River Overflows.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb. 7.—The Tennessee river has crossed the danger line at Chattanooga. All adjacent farming lands are overflowed. Factories have been compelled to close down and lumber yards are washing away. The waters are carrying destruction in their wake.

of Life in Battle.

As showing that war is no longer so murderous as it was in former years, the loss of life at some of Napoleon's great battles may be mentioned, and the loss of the Dervishes at Omdurman pales into insignificance before the losses incurred at these gigantic struggles. At Jena, for instance, the Prussian loss was 21,000 out of 105,000 men, and on the French side 19,000 out of 90,000 engaged, about one in five. At Eylau the Russians lost 25,000 out of 73,000, and the French 30,000 out of 85,000, a proportion of one in three for both sides. At Wagram the Austrians lost 25,000 out of 100,000, and the French 22,000 out of 100,000.

Every little cold settles in the kidneys— There's a constant tired feeling— And only one thing will stop it—

Doan's Kidney Pills

They're curing sick kidneys here in Janesville every day—making men stronger and happier and healthier—

Mr. H. P. Hanson, of 108 Pleasant St., engineer, employed at the Janesville Machine Co., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did me all the good that could be expected and I recommend them to any one who may be troubled with a lame back or any kidney disorder. After procuring them at the People's drug store and taking them I felt better than I did, and I did not rise in the morning with a lame and sore back. I suffered from these symptoms for four or five years and I was more than pleased at the results obtained from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. I highly recommend this reliable remedy to others."

ABOUT SENATORIAL FIGHTS.

E. T. Wheelock, leader of the supporters of Judge Webb in the late senatorial contest, and editor of The Wausau Record, speaks editorially, as follows:

Six years ago when Senator John L. Mitchell was elected over Gen. Edward S. Bragg, the little general announced that he had been wounded by a golden bullet. There are traditions related in Madison at this late day of the campaign which was conducted that year, and of the scenes which daily and nightly made the Park hotel dizzy. This year the contest for the senatorship was conducted in an orderly, sober manner. There were no wild orgies in any of the headquarters, no rioting through the halls and lobbies of the hotel, and last of all, there were no golden bullets for the wounding of opposing candidates. Mr. Stephenson, the millionaire candidate, conducted as clean and creditable a campaign as any of the others, and his lieutenants urged his election on the grounds of his fitness for the place, and no other. Our contention is that Wisconsin's two-republican senators having been elected because of their worth, and without the use of money to influence members of the legislature, the republican party in Wisconsin is entitled to credit for maintaining clean political methods, and is therefore more entitled to claim to be the party of the people than the party which was responsible for the election of the last democratic senator through the instrumentality of a golden bullet. We have a right, in view of the charges so frequently made and stoutly maintained by the democratic press, to the effect that the republican party is the party of the rich man, and not of the people, to draw this comparison between the recent election of a republican senator and the last election of a democratic senator, for the comparison fittingly illustrates the real natures of the two parties in this state.

GIVE THEM A BOTTLE.

The starving children who run The Milwaukee Sentinel are still howling, presumably because the doodle book has been done away with. Cannot a law be passed by the legislature providing that a nursing bottle, freshly filled with doodle, every three or four hours, be kept in The Sentinel office all the time? Should not this be done in the name of humanity? True, the howling hurts no one, but it has a discordant sound that grates upon the ears of people whose ideas are above the doodle bottle plane. And why should such people be compelled to listen to the wailing infants when a little doodle will close their mouths in contented silence? The state of Wisconsin is rich enough to provide for the wailing babes, and the doodle bottle should be inaugurated to succeed the doodle book in the particular case of The Sentinel. It would be but than act of humanity.

Ochokosh horsemen will work for a law that will allow trotting races to be held in Wisconsin. They condemn the running races—which are admittedly only a gambling game—but say that trotting races afford sport of a clean character, and should not be prohibited. Janesville people can bear witness to the truth of this assertion, and doubtless a large majority of the residents of the Bower City would be glad of another opportunity to "sit in the grandstand and hold a stop watch."

The real business session of the legislature began yesterday and the lawmakers should remember the old maxim "never put off until tomorrow what you can do today."

And, by way of good measure, the legislature might also give the squalling infants of The Milwaukee Sentinel a dozen teething rings.

Aguinaldo must be dealt hard blows in rapid succession. Otherwise it may take a long time to subdue him.

THE BASKET FAD.

Many People Are Making a Collection—Indian Work.

A great many people nowadays are making collections of baskets, says the New York Times. It seems to be necessary once in awhile to get a new fad, the old ones having been run into the ground. The basket fad is an expensive one, and there is a wider range in it than many people might think. There are a great variety of Indian baskets; some of them are very rare, and the Indians will not duplicate them. A man sent $25 into a store the other day and asked if they would send him as good a collection as they could of the baskets of the Indians of the northwest, of which they have many varieties. One of these baskets, a very large one, as large as a small clothes hamper, and the largest made, was sold the other day for $22. It was made by an Indian woman of the Klickitat tribe; it took her two years to make it, and it was not finished when sold. There is a peculiar superstition about finishing baskets, and a woman under a certain age will not finish one because of the bad luck it will bring her. The last strand of this big basket was cut off and left unfinished. The basket was not only the largest made, but the Klickitat Indians are no longer making baskets. There are some bottles covered with bead-work by the Alaska Indians, a most interesting Alaska doll that sells for $2, and a wooden canoe made by the Alaskans. One of the interesting baskets of the Indians of the northwestern part of this country is the rattlesnake basket, but it is difficult to get one. The woman who makes a business of collecting baskets worked for a long while with an old squaw to persuade her to make some, and got her promise, but even after that she refused to make them.

PENSION INCREASE

DENIED BINTLIFF

WISCONSIN VETERAN MUST GET ALONG WITHOUT IT

Old, Infirm and Blind He Is Now Living With His Daughter in Chicago—Representative Cooper's Efforts in His Behalf Come to Naught.

The committee on invalid pensions, of the national House of Representatives, has made an adverse report on the bill introduced by Representative Cooper, increasing the pension of Gen. James Bintliff to $100 a month. Mr. Cooper made a strong argument for favorable action on the bill, but the chairman of the committee claimed to have received information that Gen. Bintliff had an income exceeding $900 a year. Gen. Bintliff is over 80 years of age, almost totally blind, and resides in Chicago with his aged wife. His record in the war of the rebellion was a brilliant one. He enlisted in the Twenty-second Wisconsin, and was subsequently made colonel of the Thirty-eighth Wisconsin. He was made a brigadier by brevet for conspicuous gallantry in leading a charge at Petersburg. He was personally complimented for bravery in the dispatches of four commanding officers, one of whom says that the credit for the capture of Fort Mahone was due to the conspicuous bravery and gallant leadership of Col. Bintliff. Many prominent Wisconsin people have interested themselves in Gen. Bintliff's claim. He is now receiving $12 a month.
The committee has reported favorably the bill introduced by Mr. Cooper, increasing to $45 a month the pension of Francis Scott, of Darlington. The surgeons removed the upper part of Scott's arm with the result that the arm is useless. Scott was a member of Co. B, Twenty-second Wisconsin infantry. The rate proposed to be given him is the same as is given for loss of the arm near the shoulder.

STRANGE GLAMOUR OF STAGE.

Desiring to know an explanation of the fascination of chorus girls.
From the New Orleans Times-Democrat: "I wish somebody would explain," said a portly old gentleman who waxes his mustache and believes firmly that the country is going to the dogs, "I wish somebody would kindly explain the fascination which chorus girls exercise upon a certain class of young noodles. Take a woman who is as homely as a gingham umbrella and as dull as a Congressional Record and put her in the back row of the chorus where she hasn't a thing to do except draw her breath and her salary, and first thing you know a mob of half-baked Johnnies are sending her flowers and mash notes and jewelry and begging her to come out and sample hot birds and cold bottles. I can't understand it. If she was playing sonatas on a typewriter or warbling 'Cash' in a dry goods store she wouldn't get a smile in a century, but the moment she lands behind the footlights she becomes transfigured—invested with an irresistible, hypnotic charm—and the gilded youths who would pass her in silent scorn under any other circumstances are proud as peacocks if she nods to them on the street. She's a member of the profession, y'know, by jove! 'Pon my word, it's a queer thing—this glamour of stage life!'"

The Season's Colors.

National blue, a new color this season, is a clear, lively tone of deep blue, and bids fair to rival naval blue in popular favor. Emerald green is revived this season, and a shade of sea green comes to us from Paris, under the name of Neptune. The reds in the importations are coquettish, cerise and geranium in the more vivid tones of the color, with a tenebrous of crimson, tuchsia and petunia, and a revival of a pale purplish hue somewhat resembling the magenta of long ago. The grays are graduated in tone and known as platiné, aluminum, nickel and silver, the paler shades being more popular.

THEN BE MADE.

Big Prizes For Those Who Are Skilled With the Needle—Forecast of the Principal Classes in Each Department—Expert Judges Secured.

Midwinter fair week is the first week in March and a great week it will be.
Prizes have never been as large in many lines as they will be this year. There will be plenty of surprises when the list is published.

The woman's department this year will be especially strong, but the men's share of the show will not suffer by contrast.

A special meeting of the Fair committee will be held at The Gazette office at 8:15 this evening, and final arrangements will then be made. Until that time a full list of the prizes cannot be printed. The heaviest awards, however, will be as last year, on the following lines:

Handsome handkerchief, home made,
1st, $3.00; 2nd, $2.00.
All articles must be made by exhibitor.

The horse show will be conducted on the same line as last year. Horses, grain and dairy products will be judged by experts from the state farm institute force.

As to entries at the Midwinter fair
the following suggestions are made:
Entries free. Admission free. Competition limited to farmers, farmers' wives and families, except where otherwise specifically stated.

Residents of the city of Janesville barred in all classes.
Entries must be made Tuesday, Feb.
28, or before, and exhibits in place Tuesday, if character permits. Exhibits cannot be received later than Wednesday at noon and cannot be removed before Friday noon.

Make entries by mail when possible to Fred L. Clemons, secretary, Janesville.

Butter will be judged and scored by experts and the score will not be published except in case of prize winners.
Culinary exhibits should be accompanied by price ticket if subject to sale.
Culinary exhibits should be on paper or wooden plates, as plates are very liable to be lost or broken.

Grain exhibits must be from crop of 1898.

A sale department will be established and stock, grain or other farm produce may be listed for sale. Wednesday will be a special sale day.

A sale secretary will be on duty throughout the fair and will list every article brought to his notice. Seed grain may be sold by sample, blooded stock may be sold or exchanged, in fact, an outlet will be furnished for every sort of farm produce.

DEMISE OF HERBERT TOTTEN

Well Known Janesville Boy Died in Be-loft This Morning

Herbert Totten, son of Mr. and Mrs.
C. L. Totten, of 27 Wheeler street, Riverview Park, died this morning at his home in Beloit. The cause of his demise was pneumonia, which he contracted but a few days ago. The news reached the afflicted parents this morning in a telegram, and although they were aware that he was ill they little imagined anything so serious.

Deceased was about twenty-six years of age and leaves a wife and children.
Herbert Totten spent the greater portion of his days in Janesville, and for some time was employed at the Hanson furniture factory. He was also a member of the Light Infantry. Last fall he removed to Beloit, and there entered the employ of Fairbanks, Morse & Co. He was also a member of Company E, Be-loft.

Deceased was loved and esteemed by a large circle of friends here, and his untimely death will bring sorrow into many of the homes of Janesville.

M'KEVITT NOW AFTER BURKE

El Caney Hero is Either a Story-Teller or is Demented

John McKevitt, the North Main street boarding house keeper, who has been caring for Burke, the El Caney soldier who recently left town suddenly, left on the noon train for Sharon, where he expects to find the soldier.

George Brink, of this city, came up from Sharon last evening and stated that a man answering Burke's description was there in the hotel telling a hard luck story. Burke gave his army experience, but said that his name was Ferguson. Burke went away from here leaving a good sized board bill unpaid, and if he did so intentionally is what
Mr. McKevitt would like to find out.
Burke, after going to Jefferson Junction, went to Sharon in place of Milwaukee.

SEVERAL HYDRANTS FROZEN

Steam Fire Engine Has Been Out Doing
Good Service

The city has never before experienced so much difficulty with the freezing of hydrants as at the present time. Hy-drants all over town are found frozen and a force of men is kept at work thawing them out. Not only are the fire hydrants frozen, but the smaller water pipes in many of the private yards about the city. It would not be the strangest thing in the world for the fire department to find itself without water at some fire, although everything is being done to avoid such a contingency, the fire steamer having made the rounds on Sunday to remedy this trouble.

Announcement.

The song cycle—"In a Persian Garden"—which just at the present time is creating such wide-spread comment and deep appreciation, not only among musical artists, but likewise with the music lovers all over the country, is undoubtedly one of the most beautiful, weird and thoroughly artistic musical productions ever submitted to the general public.

The Rubaiyat, written 800 years ago by Omar Khayyam, was translated by Fitzgerald. Later Liza Lehman conceived the idea of a musical setting for these verses, she consequently composed the music for this cycle, and since its first production, in the East, it has grown in popularity very rapidly.

This quartette of artists, of whom it is quite unnecessary to comment to any extent, since they are so well known and deservingly popular, have the distinction of having been the first quartette to render "The Persian Garden" west of Cleveland, Ohio.

GAVE GENERAL SATISFACTION

Blondell & Fennessy Company Are Well Worth the Price Asked.

A good sized audience assembled at the Myers Grand opera house last evening to witness the initial performance of the Blondell & Fennessy company, who opened a three nights' engagement in this city in the three-act farce comedy,
"A Cheerful Idiot." That each and every one went home well repaid is expressing it in mild terms. The performance from start to finish was filled with just the right kind of material that catches the average theater goer.

Edw. rd Blondell, who played the part of the Cheerful Idiot, carried his part in a way that fulfilled all that the name implies. He was ably assisted by his wife, who is a winning soubrette far above the average found in a cheap puppet attraction. J. E. Waller as Adolph Salsapretzler, Ed Armstrong
as Quakerly, Frank Graham, as "Square Eyed Dick," as well as each and every member in the cast were good, and carried out their parts to perfection.

Notes by the score were sprung and in justice to them it may be said that they were—with a very few exceptions—new in this neck of the woods. For 10, 20 and 30 cents the company is far above the average, and crowded houses will no doubt greet them during their engagement here. This evening "A Jay on Broadway" will be presented.

PROPERTY HERE IN DEMAND.

Several Deals of Magnitude About to be Closed.

Desirable property in Janesville seems to be in demand. The sale of the Laplin and McKee blocks on South
Main street clearly demonstrate this.
And there are other large deals pending which in all probability will be closed soon.

The location of the new federal building, which this city is sure to secure, is causing quite a stir in local and state circles. Certainly with the return of prosperity, such as the city is enjoying today, there is ample reason to believe that within the next year or two a phrenomenal growth will be witnessed and property greatly enhanced in value.

This result is inevitable, and it is no mere assertion to state that Janesville is, on the eve of an era of activity and industrial progress that will redound alike to the peace, happiness and general prosperity of all its citizens.

OUR NEW POSTOFFICE

Fifty Thousand Dollars For Its Construction Included in Pending Bill

In the national house of representatives yesterday the committee on public buildings and grounds made a favorable report upon a number of government building appropriations. Among the amounts set apart by the measure was $50,000 for a postoffice at Janesville.

This is the measure introduced by Representative Cooper some six weeks ago.
The amount appropriated will, it is intended, cover the entire cost of the building and the ground upon which it is to be situated. Probably, however, an additional sum will be required to place it in condition for occupancy.

MRS. TOBIN'S FUNERAL HELD.

From St. Patrick's Church at Ten O'Clock
This Morning.

Owing to the failure of the sons of the late Mrs. Patrick Tobin to arrive from Nebraska, the funeral services, which were to have been held at 1 o'clock Sunday, were postponed until 10 o'clock this morning. From St. Patrick's church services were held, conducted by Rev. Father Collins, at the close of which the remains were interred in Mount Olivet cemetery.

Mrs. John Settle.

Mrs. Walter Rice telegraphed from Orangeville, Ill., today that her mother, Mrs. John Settle, passed away yesterday.
Mrs. Settle had been in poor health for some time, suffering from liver trouble.
Mrs. Rice and her sister, Miss Ida Settle were called to Orangeville Sunday morning and reached their mother's bedside a few hours before her demise.

Mrs. Florence Siegel.

Mrs. Florence Siegel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ellis, of Rockton, died last night at the home of her parents.
Deceased leaves an infant a few days old.
Mrs. Siegel was a sister of Mrs. E. B.
Lestes, of Beloit. By her death Rockton loses one of its most beloved young women.

TWO AFFLICTED WITH FEVER.

Quarantine Cards Now Displayed on Two Local Homes.

City Health Officer Gibson reports that quarantine cards are now to be found on two homes in this city, where scarletina exists. The victims are both children, and their cases are of a mild type.

Janesville, this winter, has so far been fortunate in having so few contagious diseases to contend with, for the city has been exceptionally healthy, compared to many of the surrounding cities of equal size. In several of the country districts in Rock county scarletina and even scarlet fever cases are to be found.

JAMES SELKIRK TO MOVE

Main Street Harness Store to Give Place to Undertaking Parlors

James Selkirk has sold his lease on South Main street to D. Ryan and will give possession Saturday, Feb. 25. He has secured the Judd store on North Main street, two doors south of The Gazette, and will install himself in much better shape than ever before. He plans many improvements that will greatly increase his facilities. The expectation is that he will be open in his new quarters
Monday, Feb. 27.

The store that Mr. Selkirk now occupies will be fitted by D. Ryan as undertaking parlors.

THE ARCHBISHOP'S BANQUET

On the stone steps that led to the principal entrance of the castle stood a tall, graceful lady with her women behind her. She was robed in black, and the headdress on her snow white hair gave her the appearance of a dignified abbess at her convent door. Her serene and placid face had undoubtedly once been beautiful, and age, which had left her form as straight and slender as one of her own forest pines, forgetting to place its customary burden upon her graceful shoulders, had touched her countenance with a loving hand. With all her womanliness there was nevertheless a certain firmness in the finely molded chin that gave evidence of a line of ancestry that had not been any too deferential to those in authority.

The stern archbishop reined in his black charger when he reached the middle of the courtyard, but made no motion to dismount. The lady came slowly down the broad stone steps, followed by her feminine train, and approaching the elector placed her white hand upon his stirrup, in mute acknowledgment of her vassalage.

"Welcome, prince of the church and protector of our faith. It is 100 years since my poor house has sheltered so august a guest."

The tones were smooth and soothing as the scarcely audible plash of a distant fountain, but the incident she cited struck ominously on the archbishop's recollection, rousing memory and causing him to dart a quick glance at the countess, in which were blended sharp inquiry and awakened foreboding, but the lady, unconscious of his scrutiny, stood with drooping head and downcast eyes, her shapely hand still on his stirrup iron.

"If I remember rightly, madame, my august predecessor slept well beneath this roof."

"Alas, yes," murmured the lady sadly. "We have ever accounted it the greatest misfortune of our line that he should have died mysteriously here, peace be to his soul."

"Not so mysteriously, madame, but that there were some shrewd guesses concerning his malady."

"That is true, my lord," replied the countess simply. "It was supposed that in his camp upon the lowlands by the river he contracted a fever from which he died."

"My journey by the Moselle has been of the briefest. I trust, therefore, I have not within me the seeds of his fatal distemper."

"I most devoutly echo that trust, my lord, and pray that God, who watches over us all, may guard your health while sojourning here."

"Forgive me, madame, if within the shadow of these walls I say 'Amen' to your prayer, with some emphasis."

The countess Laurette contented herself with bowing low and humbly crossing herself, making no verbal reply to his lordship's remark. She then besought the archbishop to dismount, saying something of his need of rest and refreshment, begging him to allow her to be his guide to the Ritter Saal.

When the archbishop reached the top-most step that led to the castle door, he cast an eye, not devoid of anxiety, over the courtyard to see how his following had fared. The gates were now fast closed and 40 horses were ranged by their tails to the wall and silent riders on their saddles. Rapid as was his glance, it showed him his guard huddled together in the center of the court, his own black charger with empty saddle the only living thing among them that showed no signs of dismay. Between two of the hostile horsemen stood his captain, with doublet torn and his headgear awry, evidently a discomfited prisoner. The archbishop entered the gloomy castle with a sense of defeat tugging down his heart to a lower level than he had ever known it to reach before, for in days gone by, when fate had seemed to press against him, he had been in the thick of battle and had felt an exultation in rallying his half-disheartened followers, who had never failed to respond to the call of a born leader of men. But here he had to encounter silence, with semidarkness over his head, cold stone underfoot and round him the unaccustomed hiss of women's skirts.

The countess conducted her guest through the lofty knights' hall, in which his lordship saw preparations for a banquet going forward. An arched passage led them to a small room that seemed to be within a turret hanging over a precipice, as if it were an eagle's nest. This room gave an admirable and extended view over the winding Moselle and much of the surrounding country. On a table were flagons of wine and empty cups, together with some light refreshment, upon all of which the archbishop looked with suspicious eye. He did not forget the rumored poisoning of his predecessor in office. The countess asked him, with deference, to seat himself. Then, pouring out a cup of wine, she bowed to him and drank it. Turning to rinse the cup in a basin of water which a serving woman held, she was interrupted by her guest, who now, for the first time, showed a trace of gallantry.

"I beg of you, madame," said the archbishop, rising and taking the unwashed cup from her hand. He filled it with wine, drinking prosperity to herself and her house. Then, motioning her to a chair, he said, seating himself: "Countess von Starkenburg, I am a man more used to the uncouth rigor of a camp than the dainty etiquette of a lady's boudoir. Forgive me, then, if I ask you plainly, as a plain man may, why you hold me prisoner in your castle."

"Prisoner, my lord," echoed the lady with eyebrows raised in amazement. "How ill are we served by our underlings if such a thought has been conveyed to your lordship's mind. I asked them to invite you hither with such deference as a vassal should hold toward an overlord. I am grievously distressed to learn that my commands have been so ill obeyed."

"Your commands were faithfully followed, madame, and I make no complaint regarding lack of deference, but when two scores armed men carry a respectful invitation to one having a bare dozen at his back then all option vanishes and compulsion takes its place."

"My lord, a handful of men were fit enough escort for a neighboring baron did he visit us, but for a prince of the church all my retainers are but a scanty acknowledgment of a vassal's regard. I would they had been 20,000 to do you seemly honor."

"I am easily satisfied, madame, and had they been fewer I might have missed this charming outlook. I am to understand then that you have no demands to make of me and that I am free to depart accompanied by your good wishes?"

"With my good wishes now and always surely, my lord. I have no demands to make. The word ill befits the lips of a humble vassal, but being here—"

"Ah! But being here"—interrupted the archbishop, glancing keenly at her.

"I have a favor to beg of you. I wish to ask permission to build a castle on the heights above Trarbach for my son."

"The Count Johann, third of the name?"

"The same, my lord, who is honored by your lordship's remembrance of him."

"And you wish to place this stronghold between your castle of Starkenburg and my town of Treves? Were I a suspicious man I might imagine you had some distrust of me."

"Not so, my lord. The Count Johann will hold the castle in your defense."

"Not so, my lord. The Count Johann will hold the castle in your defense."

"Indeed! And melted thus by kindness. How long, think you, will the process take?"

"It will be of the shortest, my lord, for, as you surmise, rumor should get abroad and falsely proclaim that the archbishop lodges here against his will there's not a flying baron or beggared knight in all the land but would turn him in his tracks and cry to Starkenburg, 'In God's name, hold him, widow, till we get our own again!' Willingly would they make the sum I beg of you an annual tribute, so they might be certain your lordship were well housed in this castle."

"Widow, there is truth in what you say, even if a woman's bath spoken it," replied the archbishop with a grim smile on his lips and undisguised admiration gleaming from his dark eyes. "This cowardly world is given to taking advantage of a man when opportunity offers. But there is one point you have not reckoned on. What of my stout army living at Treves? What of the arch when the keystone is withdrawn? What of the sheep when the shepherd disappears?"

"My lord, you do yourself and your great military gifts a wrong. Through my deep regard for you I gave strict command that not even the meanest of your train should be allowed to wander till all were safe within these gates, for I well knew that did a whisper of my humble invitation and your gracious acceptance of the same reach Treves it might be misconstrued, and, although some sturdy fellows would be true and beat their stupid heads against these walls, the rest would scatter like a flock of arrows suddenly unloosed and seek the strongest arm upraised in the melee sure to follow. Against your army, leaderless, I would myself march out at the head of my two scores men with a tremor at my heart. Before that leader, alone and armless, I bow my head with something more akin to fear than I have ever known before and crave his generous pardon for my bold request."

The archbishop took her unresisting hand, and, bending, raised it to his lips with that dignified courtesy which, despite his disclaimer, he knew how well upon occasion to display.

"Madame," he said, "I ask you to believe that your request was granted even before you marshaled such unanswerable arguments to stand like armored men around it. There is a stern and stringent law of our church which forbids its servants suing for a lady's hand. Countess, I never felt the grasp of that iron fetter until now."

Thus came the strong castle above Trarbach to be built, and that not at the expense of its owners.

There is a stern and stringent law of our church which forbids its servants suing for a lady's hand. Countess, I never felt the grasp of that iron fetter until now."

Thus came the strong castle above Trarbach to be built, and that not at the expense of its owners.

The archbishop took her unresisting hand, and, bending, raised it to his lips with that dignified courtesy which, despite his disclaimer, he knew how well upon occasion to display.

"Madame," he said, "I ask you to believe that your request was granted even before you marshaled such unanswerable arguments to stand like armored men around it. There is a stern and stringent law of our church which forbids its servants suing for a lady's hand. Countess, I never felt the grasp of that iron fetter until now."

Common Sense People Want... Common Sense Footw'r

Not all style, but comfort and durability as well. That's the kind we keep. No "trashy" Shoe will be allowed to enter our stock.

We call attention to our

Men's Shoes at $2.00.

It's a good one. You'll want it if you see it. Made of best calf; extension sole of generous thickness. The kind that gives comfort and keeps out dampness. Should bring a much higher price, but we offer it for this week at—

$2.00

To prove that we treat all alike we offer the ladies a Shoe at the same price, $2.00.

It's a common sense Shoe, made of fine quality kid, with welt, stock tip, latest style toe; all widths and sizes. Worth much more than we ask.

$2.00

This week only. We would like to have you take the bother to come in and look at them. Bother us early and often, for we like to be bothered. We feel confident when you buy we will be the chosen Shoe people.

First Spring Hints....

Stetson Hats

ARE HERE

Our large spring invoices have arrived and are already for inspection and sale. The new spring blocks and shades, the very nobbiest ideas in head gear known to hat makers a found in the Stetson hats. The

Real Nobby Styles

in hats for this coming season are being made up in smaller dimensions than the blocks of the past few years and the effect is certainly catchy. Stetson Hats have given such universal satisfaction in every way that it is needless to say more than that they are the equal of the best hats on the market—a whole year's wear on a Stetson will not change the color or shape; that is where Stetson reputation lays. We have

All The Proper Shapes

for all sorts of heads and faces; blacks, browns and tans. Stetson Hats for young men; Stetson Hats for middle aged men, and Stetson's fur old men—a most complete line every way.

New Fedoras

FOR SPRING.

All colors, all shapes, all sizes, and our entire new line of medium priced hats on all the spring blocks; hats that sell at $1.50 to $3.00. Our store has the hat reputation and we are doing all we can to strengthen that reputation this spring.
